Dear Sonata Residents, Family Members, and Friends,

We are monitoring Tropical Storm Idalia as it makes its way towards the west coast of Florida. While the path remains uncertain and can change quickly, I want to advise that we have enacted our hurricane preparedness plan to ensure you and your loved one's safety & service delivery. This includes:

1. A comprehensive emergency management and emergency environmental control plan review.
2. Completed inventory of all 'Hurricane Season' materials and additional supplies purchased where necessary.
3. Completed generator review with any necessary generators 'topped off' with fuel
4. Confirmed staffing with contingency plans should an event occur.
5. Emergency food, water, medications, and oxygen on standby for immediate delivery if necessary.

Our leadership team is no stranger to these type of weather events, and we will continue to communicate any necessary updates through Facebook and email communications from your Executive Director. If you have not followed us on Facebook, now is a great time to do so!

Should you have any questions or concerns, please reach out to your Community Executive Director via email, or cell phone. In the event you are unable to reach them on their cell phone and there is an emergency, please reach out to us via email at family@sonatahc.com for assistance.

You will continue to receive additional information from your Executive Director prior to the storm's arrival as your loved one's primary contact, but feel free to share this letter with your family if they would like to also be updated.

Thank you for your trust and confidence in us,

Shelley Esden, President & CEO
