Good Morning from Serenades in The Villages!

We wanted to send an update as Hurricane Idalia starts to make landfall in Florida.

Last night was just about "Business and Usual" for us here at Serenades. There was some rain and the winds started hollowing, but all our residents and care team stayed safe, secure, and dry overnight. We never lost power here in the community but we are fully prepared in case the storm impacted us more than expected.

We had some fun yesterday evening with our residents playing some fun games and sharing some great laughs and this afternoon we are celebrating the storm being over with some Ice Cream! Stay tuned to our Facebook page to see all we get up to as we finish riding out the storm.

Tomorrow (Thursday) we should be back to a regular day unless there are some major changes to the forecast.

Thanks again for all the thoughts and prayers that helped us through the night! We hope you and your families stay as safe as we are here at Serenades!

If there is ANYTHING we can do for you and your family, please never hesitate to reach out!

Sincerely,

Alyssa Ingle
